EXECUTIVE SUMMARY
DYFED – POWYS POLICE AND CRIME PANEL
27TH JULY 2018

PANEL COMMUNICATIONS STRATEGY

Legislation requires Police and Crime Panels to promote their activities with a view to raising public awareness and engagement in the work.

Since the creation of the Dyfed-Powys Panel this role has been undertaken by Carmarthenshire County Council's Media and Marketing Team which has;

1. Created, maintained and updated the Panel's website
2. Issued a large number of press releases and engaged with traditional media outlets across the force area and the press offices of the other 3 unitary authorities across the force area.

The last 12 months has seen a significant increase in public and press interest in the work of the Panel. For example;

1. On several occasions members of the public have submitted questions to the Panel to be put to the Commissioner.
2. Representatives of local and/or national media have attended at least 2 panel meetings and published news stories relating to the work of the Panel both in the local press and online.

However the level of public understanding of the specific role of the Panel continues to be relatively low. The attached strategy therefore sets out how this might be addressed, both through the use of traditional media and online/social media.

Other Panels have found webcasting of their meetings to be a cost-effective means of engaging with the press and public and it is therefore suggested that the Panel trial this for its next scheduled meeting on the 16th November.
