Canât sleep Front bedroom, unable to sleep  Woken by noise on the street. Went to bathroom and kitchen eventually as couldnât get back to sleep and realised there were still people talking loudly in the beer garden So long as we keep all our rear windows open and are in the front of the house we canât hear too much. But itâs not practical to have to do this! We have two rear bedrooms that get hot in the day. We just want them to keep to their license and get people inside and close their windows!  Noise from the street outside the BlueBell. Hard to get to sleep or to chat! I just wanted to demonstrate how much quieter it is when the music is indoors. Still loud but not anywhere near as intrusive. Itâs making me very fed up.  Very fed up. None of us can sleep. Busy weekend ahead and knowing we have another night of this tomorrow is upsetting. Also frustrating not knowing how much longer the loud music outdoors will last. Back bedroom. Loud, no sign of it stopping Front bedroom I have to get up at 7, so pretty fed up not to be able to sleep Thatâs the volume from a bedroom with a window open. So on a hot summer night itâs not possible to sleep with a window open or really with it closed the until it stops. There was a last minute change and they announced a live outdoor act. Canât sleep Front bedroom, unable to sleep  Woken by noise on the street. Went to bathroom and kitchen eventually as couldnât get back to sleep and realised there were still people talking loudly in the beer garden So long as we keep all our rear windows open and are in the front of the house we canât hear too much. But itâs not practical to have to do this! We have two rear bedrooms that get hot in the day. We just want them to keep to their license and get people inside and close their windows!  Noise from the street outside the BlueBell. Hard to get to sleep or to chat! I just wanted to demonstrate how much quieter it is when the music is indoors. Still loud but not anywhere near as intrusive. Itâs making me very fed up.  Very fed up. None of us can sleep. Busy weekend ahead and knowing we have another night of this tomorrow is upsetting. Also frustrating not knowing how much longer the loud music outdoors will last. Back bedroom. Loud, no sign of it stopping Front bedroom I have to get up at 7, so pretty fed up not to be able to sleep Thatâs the volume from a bedroom with a window open. So on a hot summer night itâs not possible to sleep with a window open or really with it closed the until it stops. There was a last minute change and they announced a live outdoor act. Weâre unable to plan any evening socials in our garden as suddenly a stupidly loud live act could be on. There is no need for the music to be so loud and to be continuing after 11. Indoor music does not disrupt in this way. And their license for outdoor anything is until 11. Why on Earth is this allowed to continue weekend after weekend? (This is Joâs wife btw - my day started at 6am today for work and since the sound checks just before 9pm this evening has and continues to be dominated by this music.)
